

Executive Proclamation

State of South Dakota Office of the Governor

Whereas, Ginger will be retiring as Executive Director of the Independent Community Bankers of South Dakota (ICBSD) after 17 years of service with our community banking association; and,

Whereas, Ginger has provided the community bankers of this state as Executive Director of ICBSD the highest standards of commitment, professionalism, and loyalty; and,

Whereas, Her dedication has helped to establish ICBSD as a premier banking association within the Independent Community Bankers of America (ICBA), our national partner; and,

Whereas, Ginger has further served as member and one-term president of the national Executive Council of State Community Banking Executives (CCBA), an organization devoted to fostering the interest of state community bankers associations and their executives. Ginger's leadership and professionalism during her tenure was demonstrated as the Council provided guidance on key federal legislative issues to ICBA staff and CCBA committees; and,

Whereas, Ginger continues to demonstrate her passion for the community banking industry as she served on various ICBA committees including the ICBA PAC committee; and,

Whereas, While Ginger has seen much of the country during the national events that she attended, Ginger's heart remains in South Dakota as a proud and loyal advocate for our South Dakota venues:

Now, Therefore, I, Dennis Daugaard, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim September 15, 2011, as

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twelfth Day of September in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Eleven.

Dennis Daugaard
